Excerpt: .have been switched off from the practice of medicine, during the past five or six years, into the business of keeping a sort of hotel. This hotel is such a popular resort that its accommodations have been increased until 1500 beds are now filled by the guests, who at extremely low prices receive such close attention that many stay all the year round to enjoy the charming scenery, the walks, the drives, the entertainments in the casino, and all the varied occupations which relieve monotony. Unfortunately, three reasons forbid extending an invitation to my classmates to abide with me. (1) With the prudence characteristic of the class of 72, the majority have probably amassed wealth. But none such may enter here. (2) Only residents of Connecticut are admitted. (3) It is essential that every guest be insane. If, however, these three conditions are met...
