Not illustrated. 1876 Excerpt: .a weary strain, but after all there would be no change in the inexorable fiat, No man by taking thought can add one cubit unto his stature; and his years of labour would be only wasted, if they did not really hinder the longed-for end. Imagine a lily trying to clothe itself in beautiful colours and graceful lines, stretching its leaves and stems to make them grow, and seeking to manage the clouds and the sunshine, that its needs might be all judiciously supplied! And yet in these two pictures we have, I conceive, only too true a picture of what many Christians are trying to do, who knowing they ought to grow, and feeling within them an instinct that longs for growth, yet think to accomplish it by toiling, and spinning, and stretching, and straining, and pass their lives in such a round of self-effort as is a weariness to contemplate. Grow, dear friends; but grow I beseech you in God s way, which is the only effectual way. See to it that you are planted in grace, and then let the Divine Husbandman cultivate you in His own way and by His own means. Put yourselves out in the sunshine of His presence, and let the dew of Heaven come down upon you, and see what will come of it. Leaves, and flowers, and fruit must surely come in their season; for your Husbandman is a skilful one, and He never fails in His...
